

Transmission access reform

Technical working group: member list

The members of the AEMC's technical working group for transmission access reform are:

- Alison Demaria (CS Energy)
- Anton King (AGL)
- Bill Jackson (ElectraNet)
- Brian Spak (Energy Consumers Australia)
- Byron Carter (Powerlink)
- Charbel Antoun (Spark Renewables)
- Christiaan Zuur (CEC)
- Constantyn Van Kemenade (ACEN Australia)
- Craig Memery (PIAC)
- Dan Mascarenhas (Energy Australia)
- Darren Gladman (SMA Australia)
- David Havyatt (Network of Illawarra Consumers of Energy)
- David Osmond (Windlab)
- Diane Staats (CEC)
- Dominic Adams (Energy Networks Australia)
- Duan Serfontein (RES)
- Greg Elkins (Global Power Energy)
- Greg Williams (ARENA)
- Hugh Ridgway (Alinta Energy)
- Jack San (AusNet)
- Jonathan Myrtle (Hydro Tasmania)
- Jonathan Upson (Tilt Renewables)
- Lindsay Gamble (AFMA)
- Manas Choudhury (Edify Energy)
- Marcelle Gannon (Atmos Renewables)
- Martin Hemphill (RES)
- Matthew Christian (TasNetworks)
- Matthew Dickie (RWE)
- Michael Lynch (PIAC)
- Panos Priftakis (Snowy Hydro)
- Peter Brook (AEC)
- Robert Pane (Genuity)
- Sam Lynch (Kraken)
- Sam Martin (Transgrid)
- Sarah-Jane Derby (Origin Energy)
- Verity Watson (Energy Networks Australia)

In addition to these members, observers may attend from:

- Australian Energy Market Operator
- Australian Energy Regulator
- Australian Capital Territory Environment, Planning and Sustainable Development Directorate
- Commonwealth Department of Climate Change, Energy, the Environment and Water
- New South Wales Department of Climate Change, Energy, the Environment and Water
- Queensland Department of Energy and Climate
- South Australian Department of Energy and Mining
- Tasmanian Department of State Growth
- Victorian Department of Energy, Environment and Climate Action