Julia Cassuben, Project Leader: Accelerating smart meter deployment, Australian Energy Market Commission (AEMC)

It is clearly known that the risks of smart meters on human health are well documented and have been listed as a class 2b carcinogen, and as such their deployment without informed consent is a clear violation of law, and will subject jointly and severally the AEMC, all men and women in positions of responsibility thereunder, and the Australian corporation calling itself government to the full liability for all damages incurred.

As our Trustee, the people of Australia, as Grantor and Sole Beneficiary of their Properties, order you to desist in this malfeasance or be subject to criminal activity for not following our instruction.

1. Smart meters are not to be deployed, due to their overwhelming adverse effects on human health.
2. All property owners are to be given fully informed consent, including all potential health risks, and the option to opt out of their use without penalty.
3. Our personal data is private and none of your or any other third party's business.
4. Smart meters are easily rendered inoperable by electromagnetic and other means, and the property owners of this land will be instructed how to do so en masse.

You are now Noticed and will immediately cease and desist this attempt to damage the good men and woman and our offspring on this continent with any further deployment.
