Comments: It is very simple.

Either provide customers with informed consent by providing safety data from proper testing of smart meters or stop installing smart meters.

You have no right install devices which negatively impact the physical and mental health and well being of people so before changes are made we need full transparency and disclosure of the testing and results.

We did not ask for smart meters in our homes and you did not ask us if we wanted them.

The onus is on you to provide supporting documentation for the change, not for us to provide documentation to prevent your proposed changes.
