Comments: I have EMF hyper sensitivity. I do all the following people wrapping themselves in shielding material, shielding their homes, wearing shielded clothing etc in an effort to prevent symptoms from exposure; We have spent over $40,000 on our new home trying to do this when everything change in our house when The Eagles nest was set up on Point Nepean and destroyed my life.

We have a smart meter fitted and I hate it transmitting every twenty seconds or so, we have had all our solar panels removed.

I would love to be able to move homes to find less-exposed places to live so would not want a smart meter on the new premises.

people travelling Australia in search of low-radiation environments in which to feel comfortable.
