Comments: I totally disagree with this rule change for Non-Network Options which Transgrid want because it will all fall back on consumers in the end, and it will always be MORE than originally thought or budgeted for. This whole renewaBULL energy is a fraud on the Australian people, and clawing back extra costs when the taxpayers have already paid these corporates SUBSIDIES and continue to do so and THEN INCREASING the power costs to those same taxpayers amounts to a scam, and people need to be held accountable for this. Clawing back the costs of batteries or BESS' which have gone up in smoke should not need to be paid for the taxpayer either – enough money has been taken out of the system already.
