Dear Mr Pierce and AEMC members,

RE: Transmission Frameworks Review

RATCH-Australia Corporation (RAC), a developer and owner of thermal and renewable power stations around Australia, is pleased to provide this submission to AMEC regarding its Transmission Frameworks Review.

RAC is an independent power producer headquartered in Sydney, with an operating portfolio of one coal-fired power plant, three gas-fired power plants and three wind farms. RAC also owns a portfolio of wind farm development sites representing more than 1GW of potential installed capacity.

RAC requests that AMEC undertakes further work to develop some parts of their proposals as outlined in the Second Interim Report for the Transmission Frameworks Review, published in August 2012. Specifically, RAC supports the ideas, amendments and proposals outlined by the Clean Energy Council in its submission to AMEC for this review.

If you would like further information or should you have any queries, please do not hesitate to contact me at the details provided below.

Kind Regards,

David Smith
