Comments: I am opposed to the imposition of these export charges.

I believe that the proposals are:

1. inequitable in their application to small and medium scale power generators;
 2. decades late in addressing the network distribution issues;
 3. will not reduce the cost for those who can not provide their own power / solar generation equipment;
 4. inequitable in their application to domestic generators as compared to commercial generators;
 5. retrospective in their application, especially in regard to investment decisions;
 6. a siloed approach to one component of the power generation and consumption system which fails to provide a long term and holistic solution;
 7. inefficient when taken in the context of the entire power generation and consumption system;
- and
8. could potentially lead to undesirable outcomes for the power network as a whole.
